I reported directly to Mark from 2001 to 2008 as Executive Vice President in charge of Global Operations.

“It is my pleasure to recommend John T. Jobseeker to any organization requiring an innovative leader capable of taking charge of complex situations and quickly determining the effective roadmap to bring about real change. John is a charismatic and deeply committed individual and he continually raises the bar for other executives and teams under his direction. It was always a pleasure to have John involved in new projects and I am confident that feeling is shared by many.” – Mark D. Reference, CEO, ABC Corporation

■ Volunteer Board Member

Elizabeth R. Reference, Esq.
Chief Counsel; Board of Directors
XYZ Charitable Organization

I worked directly with Elizabeth while serving on the board of directors from 2007 to 2010 and when I chaired the fundraising and community outreach committees during this period.

“As someone who has served on many boards, there are always a handful of people that stand out as the real leaders and motivators. John is one of those individuals. As a volunteer member of the board and committee member, John was always the first to offer new ideas to support fundraising requirements and increase our organization’s visibility in the community. With John’s enthusiasm, his ability to keep volunteers organized, we surpassed our fundraising goals each year when he was directly involved. He is a creative and original thinker and we look forward to him rejoining our group when his schedule allows.” - Elizabeth R. Reference, Esq.

George reported to me from 1997 to 2001 at AAA Global when I oversaw new plant startup operations.

“I think extremely highly of John T. Jobseeker. Under his leadership, my team was able to open three new plant operations through the U.S. and Europe – on time and on budget. John assembled a quality team, established goals, maintained an open-door policy, and trusted his team to hit their marks every quarter. John’s ability to keep multiple projects on track was a continual boost to everyone’s confidence who was assigned to him. Nobody ever wanted to let John down – and we didn’t. John is a one-of-a-kind executive and always an asset.” – George T. Reference, Director, Project Management, AAA Global Distribution

David J. Reference
Head Coach
BBB Little League Association

David’s two sons played on the Little League baseball teams I coached from 2001 to 2006.

“Enthusiastic, involved, diplomatic, fair, and calm – even during the playoff season. John was one of the most polite parents I have had the pleasure of knowing and his children’s positive attitude reflected his parenting-style. John was supportive of both teams and the coaching staff knew they could count on him to ensure a positive experience every season for the kids. John always made it a point after each game to thank every coach and shake his or her hand. He was a role model for the kids and his professionalism was second-to-none.” David J.
